The Daily Courant.

Friday, January 25. 1706.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated January 29.

Rome, January 9.

THE Difference between this Court and that of Naples continues as it was: 'twas indeed believ'd the Viceroy and the Collateral Council would have accepted of the Absolution from the Excommunication denounc'd against them, and the other Expedients that were propos'd; but the Courier they sent hither has brought only their Resolution of waiting for new Orders from the Court of Madrid, whither they had sent a particular Relation of the whole Affair. The same Letters farther advise, that Cardinal del Giudice being arriv'd there from Messina, they had taken that Opportunity of holding a Council to dispose that Cardinal to mediate this Affair, but he excus'd himself from intermeddling therein, as not being sufficiently inform'd of the Reasons and Pretensions of both Parties. The Post from Genoa has brought some Letters that were taken from the Courier of Lyons going through Piedmont, and afterwards restor'd to him by Order of his Royal Highness of Savoy. By this Post we have Letters from M. de Tournon written from the East Indies, by which we learn he was continuing his Voyage towards China, and that he was in dispute with the Archbishop of Goa concerning their Jurisdictions. The Jesuites of the Provinces of France, are arriv'd here, as are likewise those of Portugal and Flanders: those from Germany and Poland arrive daily, so that the 17th of this Month they will open an Assembly for choosing their General. Some days ago a Prince of the House of Nieuburg came hither; and 'tis said his Business is to endeavour to bring to a friendly Conclusion the differences between this Court and that of Vienna; but this is not certain: However the Pope receiv'd him very favourably in an Audience he had of him 2 days ago, and sent to his Lodgings a noble Present of all manner of Refreshments. That Prince has likewise receiv'd the Compliments of the Sacred College, and of the Nobility here that are well affected to the August House of Austria. An Abbot is also arriv'd here with Letters from the Electress of Bavaria to the Pope, and to the Queen Dowager of Poland, giving them an Account of the Insurrection in Bavaria.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated January 28.

Paris, January 22. The 28000 Men that the Provinces of the Kingdom are oblig'd to furnish the King to recruit his Infantry, being almost compleat, his Majesty has order'd 18000 of them to march forthwith to Spain and into Roussillon, and the remaining 10000 to Italy. He has likewise granted the Marshal de Thesse's Request, who write to him for a Reinforcement of 6 Regiments of Horse. 'Tis said that Marshal is to enter upon Action against the Catalonians the 24th or 25th of this Month. We hear from Toulon, that the Squadron of M. de Quesne Guiton, which the late Tempest had driven back to the Islands Hieres, is sail'd again for the Coast of Catalonia. Our last Letters from Grenoble and Chamberry say, that Montmeillan was demolishing with all possible Diligence. The King has publish'd a new Edict for the Creation of 100 Commissaries, Inspectors and Comptrollers of the Magazines or Yards of Wood in this City and Suburbs, paying a certain Sum for their Employment. Another Edict is likewise come out, for incorporating the 30 Inspectors and Comptrollers of the Brandy consum'd here, with the 48 Master-Gagers of Wines, that henceforth they may make but one Body, provided they pay for this 350000 Livres to the King. 'Tis talk'd afresh that a numerous Fleet will be sent to Sea next Spring, and that to defray the Expence thereof the King has set apart the Fund of 2 Lotteries his Majesty has lately set on Foot amounting to 3400000 Livres.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated Jan. 28.

Brescia, Jan. 12. The Emperor's Army and that of the 2 Crowns are both in Winter-Quarters. This Province of Brescia is utterly laid desolate by the long stay these 2 Armies have made here, and the Disorders they have committed. A Load of Hay is sold here for 155 Livres, a Setier [a Measure of 12 Bushels] of Wheat for 50, and all Provisions Proportionably. The Peasants have been compell'd to sell almost all the Cattle they had, for want of Provender to keep them alive; and most of these poor Wretches are reduc'd to beg their Bread, to leave their Home, and seek a Livelihood elsewhere. About 14000 of them have taken refuge here, and are in a deplorable Condition.

From the Leiden Courant, dated Jan. 27.

Basil, Jan. 17. The 12th of this Month the Ratifications of the Treaty of Alliance concluded lately between the Laudable Cantons of Zurich and Berne on one Part, and the most serene Republick of Venice on the other, were exchang'd in the City of Zurich, with the following Solemnity, viz. The 11th 4 Lords Deputies of the Canton of Berne arriv'd at Zurich accompanied by 14 Officers and Gentlemen of Note, their Baggage being carried by 40 Sumpter-Horses and Mules. The 12th the said Deputies of Berne were conducted by 8 Deputies and the Chancellor of Zurich with several Officers, to the principal Church of the City; and after Divine Service, were reconducted to their Lodgings with Trumpets sounding before them; whence after a short stay they went to the Council House. Then a like Number of Deputies and the Chancellor went to the Lodgings of Signior Vendromino Bianchi the Resident of Venice, and conducted him with Trumpets sounding before him to the Council House, in this Order; first went Signior Bianchi's Footmen in rich Liveries, then his Pages, then his Secretary, then 6 Venetian Noblemen, then M. Steiner of Zurich as Interpreter, then Signior Bianchi himself in the Habit of a Venetian Nobleman supported by the 2 chief Magistrates of Zurich; and the 8 foremention'd Deputies clos'd the March. Being introduc'd into the Council, Signior Bianchi took his Place between the 4 Deputies of Berne on one side of him, and M. Etscher Burgomaster of Zurich on the other, his Seat being rais'd a little higher than theirs. Then the Commissions of the Venetian Resident and of the Deputies of Berne were open'd, and the Articles of the Treaty in Latin and High-Dutch were read. Then the Oath for performance of the

Treaty

Treaty was pronounc'd by Burgomaſter Etſcher in High-Dutch, which being interpreted by M. Steiner was repeated in the Italian Tongue by Signior Bianchi, the Parties concern'd laying their Hands on the Treaty; and laſtly the Treaty being ſeal'd was exchang'd: Signior Bianchi preſented each Member of the Council with a Gold Medal, and then he and the Deputies of Berne were conducted to an Entertainment prepar'd for them and the principal Perſons of their Retinue: The Trumpets ſounding, and a treble Diſcharge being made of 12 Pieces of Cannon. Signior Bianchi was ſeated at the upper End of the Table, having the Magiſtrates of Zurich on one Hand of him, and the Deputies of Berne on the other; their Retinues were plac'd each Perſon according to his Rank. At Dinner the firſt Health was to the Republick of Venice by Burgomaſter Etſcher; the 2d to the Republick of Zurich by Signior Bianchi; the 3d to the Republick of Berne by Burgomaſter Meyer; and the 4th by Mr. Sinner to the 3 newly allied States: 6 Cannon firing and the Trumpets ſounding at each Health.
